FORTY-SIXTH ANNUAL COAL REPORT

INTRODUCTION

Not since 1904 has the coal production of the State been as low as in the year covered by this report. This reduction is due solely to the general suspension of the mines for six months of the year. A comparison of this report with that of 1926 shows that in the first three and the last three months more than one and a quarter million tons were mined than during the same months last year.

A few mines were operated during the general suspension, but their combined production was only 2,718,305 tons, while in 1926, the output for the same months was 26,885,756 tons.

While, perhaps, it is too early to place a permanent estimate on the value of training in mine rescue methods and first-aid to the injured in reducing the number of accidents in our mines, it is with pleasure we note that the number of tons mined to one killed and injured was increased over last year $4\frac{1}{2}$ and 48 per cent, respectively.

We are glad to report that the operators of thirteen of our large mines have now in their employ none but those who have received training in first-aid work, and a number of other operators have signified their intention of making their mines 100% in this work.

This report will be found to follow in form those of other years. A few new tables have been inserted, and some old ones omitted, where it was thought necessary.

A general summary of the different items found in the report follows:

FATAL ACCIDENTS

February 6, Earl Doubet, laborer, age 26 years, married, employed at Crescent Coal Company's No. 1 mine, was killed. Deceased was on a box car on the mine run track, when he was struck and knocked off the car. He leaves a widow and two children.

March 5, John Mellor, hoisting engineer, age 40 years, married, was killed while in the employ of the Hilltop Mining Company. Deceased was found dead, and it is supposed he fell out of the tippie. He leaves a widow and four children.

March 10, Charles L. Murphy, miner, age 45 years, married, was killed by falling clod in Glasford Coal Company's mine. He leaves a widow and five children.

March 27, Lloyd E. Hendrick, top boss, age 39 years, married, died from injuries received February 5, in Lake Erie Coal Company's mine. Deceased suffered a broken leg by being caught by a piece of coal sliding from the face. He was taken to a hospital and placed under the care of physicians, but a clot of blood worked its way and lodged in a valve of the heart, causing death. He leaves a widow and seven children.

September 12, George Beetler, motorman, age 31 years, married, was electrocuted when the jug from which he was drinking touched the trolley wire, in East Mapleton Coal Company's mine. He leaves a widow.

October 1, Solomon Schummel, operator, age 35 years, single, was killed by falling roof in Pleasant Heights Coal Company's mine.

October 28, Harvey I. Ricketts, miner, age 45 years, married, was electrocuted by coming in contact with the trolley wire while passing between cars in Crescent Coal Company's No. 1 mine. He leaves a widow.

December 2, James Bedford, shot firer, age 51 years, married, died from injuries received November 26 from falling slate in Brewerton Coal Company's No. 92 mine. He leaves a widow.

December 28, William E. Bibby, miner, age 45 years, married, died from the effects of injuries received five days earlier in Crescent Coal Company's No. 2 mine, by an explosion of gas. He leaves a widow and one child.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. E. KIDD,
Inspector.

Mine Rescue and First Aid Station, Springfield, Illinois

REPORT OF MINE RESCUE AND FIRST AID DIVISION

The activities of the various stations in responding to calls for help is herewith presented.

La Salle Station received a call on January 13, from the La Salle County Carbon Coal Company, mine No. 1, to assist in fighting a fire that had started in the under-ground stable. The call was promptly responded to and in a short time the fire was under control. Had it not been for prompt action on the part of the team, disastrous results might have followed as all the men were in the mine at the time. As it was, six mules were suffocated.

Springfield Station, on January 10, received a call from No. 51 mine of the Peabody Coal Company, that a shotfirer had been overcome by after effects of a windy shot. Artificial respiration was worked for two hours, but without result. On February 18, the Peabody Coal Company sent in a call from its No. 52 mine at Riverton, that an explosion had occurred and asked for help. The team responded, but on arrival at the mine they found that their services were not needed. One man was killed in this explosion. October 29, the team was called to Peabody Coal Company's No. 8 mine to explore a fire area and remove seals. This work was satisfactorily accomplished.

Benton Station. December 21, a call came from Cosgrove-Meehan Coal Company's mine No. 1, where an explosion had occurred, to assist the Herrin Mine Rescue Team. On numerous other occasions, first-aid was rendered to individuals, the victims of accidents in no way related to mine disasters.

Eldorado Station. The team at this station was called to No. 2 mine, Saline County Coal Corporation, on March 30, where an explosion killing eight men had occurred, and assisted in recovering the bodies and restoring ventilation.

Duquoin Station. A call for help was received February 24, from the Marion County Coal Company to fight a fire that had broken out in its mine.

Herrin Station. The following calls were received: April 5, from Consolidated Coal Company's Lake Creek Mine where an explosion had occurred. One man was killed. October 15, to assist at mine fire in No. 9 mine, Madison Coal Corporation. December 20, Cosgrove-Meehan Coal Company, Mine No. 1, explosion, in which seven men lost their lives. The team assisted in recovering the bodies and restoring ventilation.

In addition to the prompt response to the calls for help made by the Mine Rescue teams, each station has been active through its Superintendent in training men and women in the work of first-aid to the injured and in mine rescue methods for men. The progress of this work the past year has been highly satisfactory. The enthusiasm of the men and women, boys and girls, who have taken this training is commendable. The work is also extending, competitively, to Boy Scout organizations.

The operators and the miners are becoming more and more interested and enthusiastic in mine rescue methods and first-aid to the injured. Thirteen mines employing more than 8,000 men, have become 100%, that is, every man employed at these mines has taken first-aid training, and a number of other operators have signified their intention of reaching the 100% mark.

The result of this training through each station is revealed in the following table:

REPORT OF DIVISION OF ECONOMIC INVESTIGATION

The ninth annual report of this division shows that three hundred thirty-six operators managing 14,158 plants in 71 counties, produced 13,006,804 tons of lime stone, 5,758,554 barrels of oil, 313,498,000 cubic feet of gas, 10,653,242 tons of sand and gravel, 4,371,672 tons of shale and clay and 1,807,133 tons of silica. These plants, exclusive of oil and gas wells which did not report time, were in active operation an average of 170 days and all together employed 13,636 men. Eight men lost their lives and 198 were injured in and about these plants while in line of duty. A list of these fatalities will be found in Table 13, and a summary of the non-fatal in Table 14.
